Cox May Be Speaker.

The next House will have an unusually large number of new men, judging from the primaries already held, and from the number of old men who have not offered for re-election. Speaker R. E. Byrd has retired, and much interest is expressed in the speakership. Candidates mentioned are E. P. Cox, of Richmond, who ran sec-ond to Mr. Byrd last time; Judge Mar-tin Williams, of Glies, brother of Attorney-General Williams; Major J. N. Stubbs, of Gloucester, and Harry R. Houston, of Hampton, All have been declared the nominees of their sections. Judge Williams is a receptive candidate only, and early indications point to Mr. Cox as the probable speaker of the next House. Unusually important problems are to come before this session. Former Senator Keezell, who is a candidate for the House from Rockingham County, with excellent chances of election, in announcing that he will vote for the enabling act, expresses the opinion that public interest demands the earliest possible settlement of the question. He believes that it should be voted on one way or the other in the first ten days of the session, as the continued agitation and endless speech-making "stands in the way of remedial legislation along many lines." As the sentiment of the State has crystallized into a strong demand for tax reform and for some proper regulation of the fee system, both of which are financial seen that the Finance Committee of the House and Senate face no easy undertaking. Serious Financial Problems. Great regret, therefore, is felt at the continued illness of Colonel A. M. Bow-man, for many years chairman of the House Finance Committee, which has forced his retirement from the race. Under the Folkes resolution the Senate Finance Committee-a hold-over prohibition act would reduce the State's annual revenue by $600,000, it will be body—is to meet in Richmond thirty days before the session opens to pre-pare an appropriation bill for the exparte an appropriation bill for the ex-ponses of the government, which is to be reported to the Senate on the second day of the term, and be made a con-tinuing order. It is hoped in this way to avoid the abuse of former sessions, when an appropriation bill carrying millions of the State's money has been jammed through on the final night of the session, with but scant considera-tion. Mr. Cox has proposed in connection with his campaign for the speakership that the House Commit-tee on Finance be divided into a committee on ways and means to raise the revenue, and a committee on ap-propriations to expend it, thus giving more time for the serious consideration

With the information already available to members-elect in the report of the tax commission and in the ex-haustive calculations of State Auditor Moore, members assert that it will be inexcusable if this session fails to take hold of the question of taxation se-riously and find some proper solution. A number of members are inclined to agree with former Senator Keezell that there is danger of taking up too much time hearing prohibition orations, after the manner of the last two or three sessions, leaving scant time for the consideration of more difficult problems affecting the welfare of the State. Two Senate Changes.

There will be but two changes in the Senate, which is otherwise a hold-over body. Senator E. C. Folkes, of Richmond, has resigned to accept a seat on the city Administrative Board. Colonel John S. Harwood, formerly a member of the House, has been nominated for the manying term. nated for the unexpired term, are opposed to the enabling act.

Senator D. C. Cummings, of the First District, composed of the Counties of Washington, Smyth, and the city of Bristol, has died since the last session. B. F. Buchanan, of Smyth, is the Demo-cratic candidate, and former State Senator A. C. Lincoln, of Smyth, is the Republican candidate. Like Senator Republican candidate. Like Senator Cummings, they both favor the ena-bling act, so that the changes in the Senate will make no difference in the vote on that question.

Hofheimer's Big Summer Shoe Sale!

The big and legitimate event that happens at the end of every season begins to-morrow at the Hofheimer's Shoe Store. The mere announcement of this sale will suffice to crowd our store to its fullest capacity, which proves the genuineness of our sales. On account of the rapid change of styles we can't afford to carry Shoes over from one season to another, hence we have marked all Summer Shoes at prices lower than ever before.

WIDEN TWO STREETS

erty on Seventh and Hull Streets. At a meeting of the commissioners appointed to hear condemnation pro ceedings against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad yesterday afternoon, arrangements were made to widen Seventh Street at the curve near the Free Bridge for nearly a block, by twenty feet, and to widen upper Hull Street for twenty-three feet. Work will be immediately begun on the thoroughfares, and it is expected that they will be thrown open to traffic in the next

As Eighth Street was of practically no use to the city, it terminating in a steep incline, the lower part will be turned over to the railroad in exchange for the property on Seventh Street. The city is to pay 1.175 for the Hull Street land—$12.50 a foot—and $200 for the removal of a signal tower on the ground.

The widening of the lower end of Seventh Street at the curve near the Free Bridge means a great improvement in the traffic conditions of the Southside. Many collisions and accidents have been caused at this point by the narrowness of the street, where a team could not see another vehicle or electric car until it was upon them, and ran the risk of being jammed into the high fence on one side. The dump next to the bridge is being filled in by the city, and when this is finished an ample thoroughfare for traffic will be provided.

long standing grievance will be remedied when the narrow passageway on Hull Street at the Atlantic Coast Line depot is widened. This will facilitate the handling of freight and will permit the laying of additional car tracks.

A smoker, writing for a Western happer, claims to have culled from his family doctor some valuable information, which he gives to the public as follows:

"At one time tobacco was very largely prescribed in medicine, and even to-day considerable quantities are so made use of.

"General Chapman records that he was cured of a severe sprain simply by a poultice of tobacco leaves. As an external remedy for wounds and bruiss and sprains, a wet tobacco poultice is commonly used in all countries where tobacco is grown.
